

ALICE

Morticia: And this is Cousin Helga from Baden-Baden.

Alice: Who's that looking over her shoulder?

Morticia: Oh, no. That's her other head.

Alice: She has two heads?

Morticia: Well, you know what they say.

Alice: And who's that man in the dress?

Morticia: Oh. That's Aunt Herman. Wednesday's uncle, twice removed.

Alice: I don't understand.

Morticia: Well, they removed it once, but it grew back.

Alice: What's that?

Morticia: Our wedding vows.

Alice: That's so romantic. "We promise to tango at least three times a week.:

Morticia: ... for passion.

Alice: "We promise to tell each other everything."

Morticia: .... for truth.

Alice: Everything?

Morticia: Of course.

Alice: And you're still married?

Morticia: More than ever.

Alice: Boy it doesn't work that way in our house.

Morticia: How does it work?

Alice: Well... What's good for the gander is a nice quiet goose. If I told Mal my secrets, all hell would break loose.

Morticia: Alice. I'm shocked. What kind of marriage is it where you keep secrets?

Alice: A long one!
