

DOROTHY Reading

AUNT EM: Come inside honey.

DOROTHY: I'm not going anywhere with you. If you really loved me, you wouldn't have let Toto go.

AUNT EM: She had an order from the sheriff, Dorothy. What did you expect us to do? Wave a wand and make it disappear?

DOROTHY: You still could've tried at least. You stood there like you was stuffed or something.

HUNK: I just couldn't think of anything. I'm ... I'm sorry.

DOROTHY: One mean old woman and you were scared of her.

ZEKE: It weren't my place to interfere.

DOROTHY: And you're worst of all. You stopped Toto getting away. I just ... just hate you.

HICKORY: Oh don't say that, Dorothy. You make me feel terrible inside, like my heart was all tore out.

DOROTHY: I don't care. I never want to see any of you again, ever, ever, ever.
